[1]If you select "Target Date Funds" in your New Investment Lineup, for operational reasons, you may not be able to map assets directly from funds in your Current Investment Lineup into these new funds.
[2]Estimated fund assets are as of 09/30/2022
[3]An expense ratio is a fund's annual operating expenses expressed as a percentage of average net assets and includes management fees, administrative fees, and any marketing and distribution fees. Expense ratios directly reduce returns to investors. The expense ratio typically includes the following types of fees: accounting, administrator, advisor, auditor, board of directors, custodial, distribution (12b-1), legal, organizational, professional, registration, shareholder reporting, sub-advisor, and transfer agency. The expense ratio does not reflect the fund's brokerage costs or any investor sales charges. For publicly traded mutual funds, the net prospectus expense ratio is collected from the fund's most recent prospectus and provided by Morningstar. This is the percentage of fund assets paid for operating expenses and managemer fees. In contrast to the net expense ratio, the gross expense ratio does not reflect any fee waivers in effect during the time period. Morningstar pulls the prospectus gross expense ratio from the fund's most recent prospectus. Commingled Fund expense ratios are provided by the investment managers.
[4]Note: Certain charges and expenses are assessed by the fund manager of the funds against the assets held by a particular fund. ADP and its affiliates may receive a portion of such aggregate fees, which vary depending on the fund and/ or the fund manager. ADP and its affiliates may also receive certain fees directly from affiliates of the fund or fund manager that are not assessed against the funds. The amounts that ADP or its affiliates receive from investment funds in the Plan (or fund affiliates) are listed above under "ADP Fund Revenue" which is the sum of 12b-1 fees and CIT Service Fees columns. Please refer to the ADF Investment Fund Expense and Compensation Disclosure for further information regarding this compensation.
[5]Brokerage Account Transaction fees apply per transaction based off of TD Ameritrade Brokerage Fee Schedule.
[6]Company Stock Transaction fee of $.04 per share for securities held on NY Stock Exchange, in addition to standard SEC fees applied to all securities.
[7]ADP's systems, operational and administrative capabilities and framework require that assets held in certain administrative Plan accounts be invested in a cash equivalent or similar Fund designed to "preserve principal" in order to facilitate orderly Plan operations. You direct that the Fund you choose be used as the Fund for purposes of investing amounts held in the the Plan's forfeiture account, any amounts returned to the Plan as a "stale dated" check, and any ERISA budget account.
[8] In-kind transfer available is where an investment fund is exactly the same on the current and proposed line-up. The availability of the assets in the fund to move in-kind will still be dependent upon your election ir section III of this document. Please note that if you elect in-kind transfer, the execution of the in-kind process will require approval from your current 401k provider as well as additional review by ADP.

Section II. Default Investment Fund(s) Information

You must select a Default Fund for your Plan. This is the Fund in which the account of a participant who has not made an affirmative investment election will be invested, until the participant makes an affirmative election. Please note the following:

(1) United States Department of Labor ("DOL") Regulation Title 29 CFR 2550.404c-5 (the "Regulation") provides for certain "safe harbor" protections to fiduciaries of plans where contributions made behalf of participants who have not made affirmative investment elections are invested in a "qualified default investment alternative" (or "QDIA"), provided that the requirements of the Regulation are satisfied. The Regulation specifies certain types of investment funds and products that are eligible to be used as a QDIA and sets forth a number of requirements for funds to qualify as a QDI The Regulation also requires the provision of certain notices and information to participants. Please consult your legal advisor for details on meeting all of the requirements of the Regulation.

(2) One type of investment eligible to be used as a QDIA under the Regulation is a "life-cycle" or "targeted-retirement-date" fund designed to provide varying degrees of long term appreciation and capital preservation through a mix of equity and fixed income exposures based on a participant's age, target retirement date or life expectancy. Funds in this category change their asset allocatio and associated risk levels over time with the objective of becoming more conservative with increasing age. Typically, lifecycle or targeted-retirement-date funds are offered as a "series" of severa funds with different target dates, so that contributions made on behalf of each plan participant who has not made affirmative investment elections may be invested in one fund within the series based on the individual participant's age, target retirement date or life expectancy.

(3) A second type of investment eligible to be used as a QDIA under the Regulation is a "balanced" fund designed to provide long-term appreciation and capital preservation through a mix of equity and fixed income exposures consistent with a target level of risk appropriate for participants of the plan as a whole. A plan fiduciary selects one balanced fund as a plan's QDIA taking into accour the demographics of the plan's participants as a whole, and is not required to take into account the age, risk tolerances, investments or other preferences of individual participants.

(4) Any Fund you designate as a Default Fund must be a Fund otherwise generally available to participants for investment of their account assets.

(5) ADP cannot provide you with investment advice. ADP makes no representation that any of the Funds chosen will be "qualified default investment alternatives" within the meaning set forth in the Regulation. You must make this determination with your legal and/or investment advisor.

Section III. Asset Conversion Options

Select either Option A or Option B:

☐ Option A: Liquidation of all Assets and investment in Short Term Interest Bearing Account. Liquidation of all Assets and investment in the investment option selected for this purpose. You el to liquidate all assets from the plan and transfer to the appropriate Trustee or if applicable, the custodian. ADP does not recommend investments. However, you acknowledge that if you elect a liquidated conversion, ADP's systems, operational, and administrative capabilities and framework require that transferred conversion assets be temporarily invested in a cash equivalent or similar Fund designed to "preserve principal" during the conversion period. By electing to convert to ADP's services via a liquidated conversion, you direct that solely during the conversion period, your Pla conversion assets will be invested in the SSgA Cash Series US Government Fund. After the conversion period the assets are then transferred based upon a participant's investment elections. If the is no investment election on file for a participant, the participant's assets will be transferred into the plan's Default Fund.

☒ Option B: Fund Mapping. Conversion assets will be transferred to the Trustee and will be invested fund by fund in accordance with the fund mapping instruction you provide in Section I above. Ea Current Plan Investment must be mapped to a new Selected Investment . If ADP receives any assets that were not invested in any Current Plan Investment shown in the chart above, those assets be invested at your direction in the default investment Fund you have designated, unless and until you provide us additional written investment instructions for such assets. Note: If participants will r be required to reenroll in your Plan in connection with the conversion, then participant elections for the investment of new contributions and loan repayments will also be mapped based upon participant investment elections in effect at the time the blackout period begins. In the event ADP receives contributions and loan repayments for processing before Participant investment election records are transferred to ADP in good order, such contributions and loan repayments will be invested at your direction in the default investment Fund you have designated, until ADP receives such records in good order. Upon receipt of Participant investment election records in good order, ADP will reallocate any such defaulted contributions and loan repayments (adjusted for earnings) as so as administratively practicable to Participant investment elections as mapped.

☐ Option C: In-kind Transfer. In-Kind Transfer is the transfer of conversion assets "as is" without liquidating. Upon making this election ADP will transfer assets in- kind where available.All other asse that cannot transfer in-kind will be treated as per Option B.

Section IV. Acknowledgement, Agreement, and Representation

By signing this document the Client (and, as applicable, the Investment Fiduciary) hereby acknowledges, agrees, and/or represents:

(1) Client or the Investment Fiduciary, as applicable, has independently selected the Funds designated above, and that none of ADP, Inc., its affiliates (collectively, "ADP") or, unless it has otherwise so agreed, the entity that marketed the program under which ADP performs this service (if different from ADP) has exercised, or will exercise, any discretionary authority with respect to the selection of investments to be made by the Plan, provide investment advice or otherwise acted as a fiduciary with respect to the Plan. All such authority shall reside exclusively with the Client or the Investment Fiduciary, as applicable.

(2) If Client has elected to make available Participant Advisory Services in its Plan, the investment options Client or the Investment Fiduciary, as applicable, has selected for its Plan will be the Funds to which that service applies. Any changes to the Plan's investment options may result in a change to the investment options permitted by, or the cancellation of, Participant Advisory Services.

(3) Client or the Investment Fiduciary, as applicable, has determined that the "Default Fund" is appropriate for Plan participants in light of the general demographics of its employees, and that if Client or the Investment Fiduciary, as applicable, subsequently determines that the Default Investment is not appropriate for the Plan, it may select another Default Fund available under this program.

(4) Client or Investment Fiduciary, as applicable, has received prospectuses for all of the mutual funds and a description with respect to each of the remaining commingled funds selected. While ADP will provide assistance t making available prospectuses (or fund information, as applicable) and will provide such additional assistance as may be mutually agreed to by the Client and ADP, Client further acknowledges that the Client and/or the Plan's fiduciaries are solely responsible for providing notice to Plan participants of the selection or de-selection of Funds under the Plan.

(5) If ADP receives notice from an investment provider that a Fund is closing or not accepting new investments and it is not reasonably feasible for ADP to obtain direction from the Client or Investment Fiduciary, as applicab (either affirmatively or in accordance with the substitution of funds procedures previously agreed to by the Client) in a timely manner, Client or Investment Fiduciary, as applicable, directs ADP to, as applicable, direct new investments and/or transfer existing balances in the closed fund into the Money Market or Stable Value Fund it has selected.

(6) In an effort to prevent short-term trading and market timing, many investment companies have established excessive trading and/or redemption fee policies for certain investments. ADP Retirement Services, whenever possible, implements the investment company's market timing policy (please review the Fund's prospectus for information on a specific Fund company's policies). However, there are instances when ADP Retirement Services may need to impose a market timing policy which the investment company has agreed to or requested that is different than the policy in a Fund's prospectus. Because investment options in the Plan may be subject to these policies, please refer to the Plan Sponsor Web site (or, if the Web site is not available to you, call a Client Services Representative) for additional information).

(7) Unless ADP and you otherwise agree, (1) any amounts liquidated from investments transferred from a prior service provider in connection with a conversion to the ADP Program will be held in the SSgA Government Mor Market fund during the " blackout" period following conversion and (2) if ADP receives notice from an investment provider that an investment fund is closing or not accepting new investments, if it is not reasonably feasibl for ADP to obtain direction from the Client or Investment Fiduciary, as applicable, (either affirmatively or in accordance with the substitution of funds procedures previously agreed to by the Client or Investment Fiduciary, applicable,) in a timely manner, Client directs ADP to, as applicable, direct new investments and/ or transfer existing balances in the closed fund into the Money Market or Stable Value fund selected by Client or Investme Fiduciary, as applicable.

(8) To participate in the ADP program, Client or Investment Fiduciary, as applicable, must select at least three Funds (including one Fund in the Money Market/Stable Value category). If the Plan is intended to be a "404(c) pl as defined by DOL regulations at 29 C.F.R. section 2550.404c-1, the Client or Investment Fiduciary, as applicable, should select a "broad range" of investment options as defined by that regulation. Section 404(c)(1) of ERISA can shield plan fiduciaries from liability for participants' investment decisions if certain requirements (including the "broad range" requirements) are met. Please consult your legal advisor.

(9) The following will apply to any investment option selected now or in the future by Client or Investment Fiduciary, as applicable: By selecting an investment option, Client or Investment Fiduciary, as applicable directs ADP Client's behalf to authorize the institution that serves as the Plan's trustee (the "Trustee") or custodian (the "Custodian") to open accounts on the records of such investment option reflecting the Plan's investment in such investment option. Any such account may reflect the investment option positions of multiple retirement plans for which ADP provides services (an "Omnibus Account"). In the case of an Omnibus Account on the books of investment option opened prior to the date hereof in the name of the Trustee or Custodian, Client shall be deemed to have directed ADP to authorize the Trustee or Custodian to open such account. By providing the foregoing direction(s) to ADP, Client shall have directed (or deemed to have directed, with respect to an Omnibus Account previously opened) ADP to make all representations and warranties contained in the account opening application required by the investment option (other than those made therein by the Trustee or Custodian regarding its own status or its capacity to act as a trustee or custodian), and to agree to perform all actior required under the application. 13 Pre-inception data is presented in the performance and ranking section of this report. Morningstar provides adjusted historical returns and an Extended Performance Rating for some mutual funds in its universe. This means that any share class that doesn't have a 1, 3-, 5-, or 10-year performance history may receive a hypothetical Morningstar Rating based on the oldest surviving share class of the fund. First, Morningstar computes the funds' new return stream by appending an adjusted return history of the oldest share class.

14 The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variatior a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The Morningstar Rating does not include an adjustment for sales loads. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 sta and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. Overall ratings are determined monthly and are subject to change. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10- year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact becau it is included in all three rating periods. Calculation methodologies utilized by Morningstar may differ from those applied by other entities, including the fund itself. The "numbers in parentheses" refers to the standardized time periods.

15 The Morningstar Analyst Rating™ for funds is the summary expression of Morningstar's forward-looking analysis of a fund. Morningstar analysts assign the ratings globally on a five-tie scale with three positive ratings of Gold, Silver, Bronze, a Neutral Rating and a Negative Rating. The Analyst Rating is based on the analyst's conviction in the fund's ability to outperforn its peer group and/or relevant benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis over the long term.
