Notice

The following report shows the results generated from the answers given by this candidate when they took this assessment. Although they provide valuable information to help you make better hiring decisions, they should never be used as the only basis for deciding to hire or not hire this candidate. You should always take into consideration the candidate's previous work experience, education obtained, skills needed to perform the job, personal and business references as well as information obtained during the interview process. If the job could potentially affect the safety of others, it is important to also take into consideration other screening information such as drug & alcohol tests, background checks, Doctor's physicals, etc.

Detail Report

Below you will find a brief description of the meaning of each section, and then the score and a description of how that applicant scored on the given section and what that score means about the applicant.

Candidness

Score 21

Description: Candidness measures the degree to which the individual is likely to be candid and accurate in his/her responses and is therefore not trying to outsmart the test in an effort to present him/herself in a more favorable light.

About the Applicant: This individual's Candidness score indicates that he/she have likely answered most of the test questions in a candid and accurate manner, but at times, he/she may have tried to elevate their scores by answering the questions in a more socially desirable manner. Some of the individual's responses may not accurately represent his/her true attitudes or behaviors. However, it is normal for some individuals to attempt to present themselves in a favorable light during the interview/testing process. While research shows that moderate candidness scores do not necessarily invalidate the test results, and, in fact, are very common during the testing and interview process, it may be a good idea to probe a little deeper into some of the areas where the candidate scored high to ensure his/her past behaviors justify their high test scores.

Self-Awareness

Score 71 High

Description: Self-Awareness measures the degree to which the individual is self confident and feels secure of self. The degree to which he/she uses this demeanor to remain calm and cool under pressure.

About the Applicant: This individual's Self-Awareness score falls within the High range. There is a higher probability that this individual is aware of his/her capabilities and is self-assured, confident and calm in his/her decisions and actions, and tends to bounce back from disappointments. This is definitely an area of strength for this individual.

Relationship Management

Score 76 High

Description: Relationship Management measures the degree to which the individual is likely to manage people relationships effectively. The degree to which he/she is team oriented and collaborative in all aspects of his or her relationships, including working cooperatively with coworkers and customers.

About the Applicant: This individual's Relationship Management score falls within the High range. There is a higher probability that this individual will work well in a team environment, collaborate well with others, and do whatever it takes to see the team succeed when compared to those scoring lower. This is definitely an area of strength for this individual.

Self-Management

Score 55 Moderate

Description: Self-Management measures the degree to which the individual manages self properly. The degree to which he/she is likely to be hardworking, reliable, organized and plans ahead.

About the Applicant: This individual's Self-Management score falls within the Moderate range. While some individuals who score in this range are likely to value hard work, be punctual, and take pride in doing a job well, others (particularly those who score at the low end of this range), at times, may show less self-management behaviors. More in-depth interviewing and reference checks focusing on self-management may be a good idea for this individual if this characteristic is important for job success.

Social Awareness

Score 65 Moderate

Description: Social Awareness measures the degree to which the individual is caring, empathetic and is service oriented.

About the Applicant: This individual's Social Awareness score falls within the Moderate range. While some individuals who score in this range are likely willing to put the needs of others first, demonstrate empathy, and be generous, others (particularly those who score at the low end of this range), at times, may show less social awareness behaviors. More in-depth interviewing and reference checks focusing on social awareness may be a good idea for this individual if this characteristic is important for job success.

Responses & Interview Questions

Below you will find interview questions based on the applicants answers given during the assessment. Questions are generally only provided for questions where the applicant's answer negative affected their score.
